

Dear FCC:

As you no doubt know by now, Sinclair Broadcasting has directed its many stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election. Sinclair's heavy-handed action is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation. Specifically, consolidation allows large corporate media to dictate and control the political debate.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
